

Wednesday, September 4, 2013, by Ian Spula

DEVELOPMENT UPDATE, LEXINGTON HOMES → Developer

Lexington Homes has opened sales on its second phase of single-family home construction in Bridgeport at 36th Place & Sangamon, per a press release. Meanwhile, phase three of the complex' row home component is under construction with sales slated to begin in winter. In the interest of maximum confusion, the single-family sections are named Lexington Place while the row home sections are filed under Lexington Square, and a third branch, Lexington Park, is the domain of the 'burbs. The 20 single-families and 21 row homes start at $472,500 and $369,000, respectively. Lexington Homes, [previously]

<http://chicago.curbed.com/archives/2013/09/04/development-update-lexington-square.php>

9.4.13